Re : ISO 22000:2005 Food safety management system certification

Dear Partners!

Please find below a brief description of ISO 22000:2005 standard.

ISO 22000 standard defines requirements for food safety management system, which combines seven principles of HACCP and prerequisite programs within management system structure.

HACCP (HAZARD ANALYSIS AND CRITICAL POINTS CONTROL) represents international principles that define requirements for the effective food safety control.
